2015 Yearbook Dedication

Mrs. Tornrose

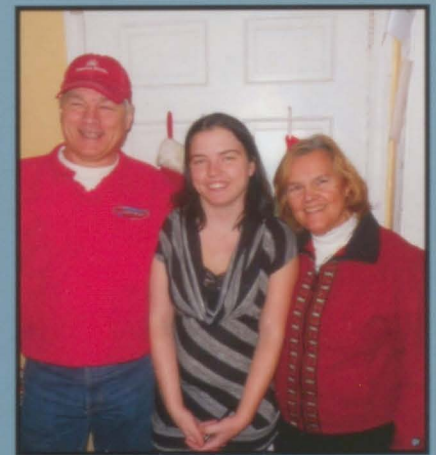

A Kudos flag lies at the lower left corner outside Mr. Whittington's office: Kudos! Yale Divinity College Holly Tornrose! It's bitter-sweet that you are leaving us next year, Mrs. Tornrose. We'll miss you tons! You will be in college soon and so will most of the class of 2015. We are so happy that you are getting closer to your dream that is to become Holly Tornrose. Thank you for being so awesome in your eight years here. Things will not remain the same without you. Thank you for being the best and sweetest English teacher. When I asked Pratt and Rachel about the AP Lit exam they just finished, they told me this: "Do you know how sweet Mrs. Tornrose, Holly is? She prepared us many little stickers." "Look at this one," Rachel pointed at a sticker on her water bottle which says "go get-em" on it, "isn't she so cute?" Students who have taken your classes are unexceptionally impressed by the agenda you write on the board every class. Every Second in your English class is well-planned; you always keep us busy and concentrating. The system you keep in the Writing Center is incredible. You have the entire record of all the students who came to the Writing Center for help and reflections by the tutors who helped them. Piles and piles of paper indicate your hard work to keep the Writing Center running. Thank you for being a weekend duty crew chief. It takes a lot of effort for you to come up with weekend activity ideas and make them happen. During your last weekend duty, over 90 students participated in at least one activity off campus not counting the sports trips. People who went on the barn dance trip with you all had tons of fun. Thank you for making everything happen! Personally, thank you for being a great advisor to me! You are always the person I trust and will come to. Please know that you have made marks on my life and many others' lives. The class of 2015 dedicates this yearbook to you for all the great works you have done. We wish you the best on the way to follow your dream. Thank you for being an amazing teacher and human being

! - Xiaolu Qian

I think it's safe to say that countless student that have gone through Gould have struggled with math. For these students, (I know because I was one), the subject has been a thorn in the side; algebra I and II, geometry, chemistry, physics, all suffered in silent agony. Looking back at these years I realize any of these less math-oriented students, like myself, who unwittingly stumbled into Ms. Duclos' tutelage are so lucky to have been her students.

Over the course of our senior year, I think I can speak for all the seniors when I say we desired a less formal and more familiar relationships with our teachers. The "first-name-basis" initiative, although present behind the scenes in earlier years, started to be initiated with teachers. I say this because it feels more natural calling Ms. Duclos Loraine. It's not a name called out of disrespect. Far to the contrary, for me it's a sign that I formed a connection with Ms. Duclos. And I'm not alone. Every year Loraine changes the lives of dozens of students. That's why we the seniors chose to dedicate the 2015 yearbook to Loraine Duclos. She takes the potential of her students to heart. I remember one time last year, when the road flooded down by the skate park. Loraine drove all the way around the flood, taking a big detour to make it to class on time. I, of course, wasn't elated then, but looking back I am gushingly grateful for the caring, passionate, and dedicated teacher that I was privileged to have.

Ben-I am so proud of you and the person you have become. You have a positive way of looking at the world and trying to find good in all that you see and do. Your accomplishments to date are the beginning of what I am sure will be very long list as continue your journey in life. I enjoy watching you grow, remembering the funny things you have said that I will always treasure (like the time you told me you liked hamburgers from McDonalds now, just not the brown stuff in the middle) and I look forward to not only watching your journey by allowing you to grow, knowing that I am here for you when you need me. This quote from Ellen DeGeneres is perfect: "Follow your passion. Stay true to yourself-Never follow someone else's path....unless you're in the woods and you're lost and you see a bath. By all means, you should follow that" I want you to know that the last part of this quote represents that when you feel lost or confused in your journey, you don't have to face the world all on your own. There is a whole pile of people who love you here to assist you along the journey to you success! I love you! Congratulations-Follow your Dreams! Love, Mom, Gram, Grampy, Peter and Matthew

This is a huge thank you to my family, Ms. Barstow, my friends, and everyone who has helped me out in the past 4 years! I couldn't have done it without the support from all of the wonderful people I've met here. There isn't enough room on this page to fit photos of all of the people I'm appreciative for and am going to miss next year. ❤️ Isabella ❤️

I would just like to thank everyone who made this year so special for me. I cannot believe the fun I have had at this school and am so happy I made the decision to come. I cannot image my life any where else. Thank you to my advisors, thanks to all my friends. I wish I had room on this page to showcase all of the amazing times we have had together. Thank you, Gould. I wish I could have had more time here! - Hattie
